Fine for flouting waste management rules

Owing to increase in violation of waste management rules in the city, Chennai Corporation plans to initiate penal action against violators.

The Corporation will soon finalise the fine to be levied for various violations.

Apart from solid waste, action will be taken against those who handle plastic, biomedical, construction, electronic waste and hazardous waste.

According to civic officials, residents in big apartment complexes have not agreed to set up in-house waste processing plants. "Nobody wants to have waste near the home. We have to sensitise them," said an official.

Commercial complexes which generate bulk waste in areas such as T. Nagar, George Town, Anna Nagar, Royapuram and Adyar have pointed to lack of space for waste processing.

"Inadequate space is another challenge," the official said. Despite the Solid Waste Management Rules coming into force in 2016, the civic body has not intensified penal action against the violators, including educational institutions.

By Our Staff Reporter

Plea to hasten civic work at Station Road-Lake View Road junction

By Our Staff Reporter

Storm water drain construction at the junction of Station Road and Lake View Road, West Mambalam is progressing at a slow pace which is causing heavy traffic congestion during peak hours.

Residents have appealed to Chennai Corporation to complete the work on a war footing.

Parking charges to go up in city

To control congestion, Chennai Corporation will soon hike parking charges in several areas in the city depending on the level of demand/congestion. It has started a study to identify stretches with traffic congestion to increase parking charges in designated parking slots.

An official said: "We expect the hike in charges to be a disincentive to take vehicles to the area and make people use public transport or walk. We will collect four times the parking charges as fine for violating rules framed in accordance with the Chennai City Municipal Corporation Act." CCTV cameras and automatic number plate recognition systems will be installed in the parking lots to trace vehicles that violate rules. Currently, Chennai Corporation does not collect fine from motorists who fail to pay parking charges. The existing charges are 5 per hour for cars. Motorcycles and autorickshaws are now exempt from parking charges but not under the new system. According to preliminary estimates, at least 3000 parking slots in congested areas such as T. Nagar are expected to have higher charges.

GRE and GMAT lessons rendered free

By Our Staff Reporter

American Education Aids, established in 1980 in AD 79, Anna Nagar to offer postal coaching for GRE and GMAT (entrance examinations for admission in American Universities), has decided to offer its outstanding lessons to students everywhere free of cost.

The Institute was established by K. S. Ramakrishnan (retired IAS officer and presently Editor of Mambalam Times), and has so far helped over 20,000 students from middle classes to secure admission as well as financial assistance in reputed US Universities such as Harvard, MIT and Stanford.

A number of its students have achieved centum scores in these examinations.

"I had put in hundreds of man hours in writing these lessons single-handed, and I want the fruits of that effort to continue to be available even after me. Today's technology allows students from all over the world to download the lessons from the Internet, and I have decided to offer them free of cost", he said.

"The uniqueness of these lessons is that they contain analysis of over 4,000 actual questions asked in GRE and GMAT of earlier years which are still relevant", he said. There are sets of 12 books each for GRE and GMAT, each set running into over 1,500 pages.

After he made the announcement about a month back, nearly 8,400 students from a number of countries have downloaded the books.

The books are available in www.grebest.com and www.gmatbest.com.

Readers are requested to inform their relatives and friends planning to take GRE or GMAT of this free opportunity.

Central, Saidapet underground metro rail stretches opened

At Central, only the upper track level connecting stations on Poonamallee High Road have been opened. The lower track linking Anna Salai is not ready. According to an official, there is a train every five minutes from Central to the airport and from Central to St. Thomas Mount.

"If the number of users goes up, we may increase the frequency to two and half minutes," he said. The fare from Central to airport is Rs. 60 and from Central to DMS (the longest stretch as of now) is Rs. 70.

While the Saidapet Metro station is located close to Panagal Maligai, the AG-DMS station is near the Directorate of Medical and Rural Health Services.

There was a delay of two years in opening both the stretches. Work in the Anna Salai line was stalled for a year after a Russian contractor, who was building tunnels and stations between May Day Park and Saidapet, abandoned work citing financial crisis. This forced the government to open bids again and award contracts in small packages to firms to finish the pending work.

The final inspections of the stations and tunnels were carried out last week.

NO HOLDS BARRED

By M. A. SADANAND

Wedding Video

Acres of concrete made a hill near the heart of an undulating spread of dull city buildings. In the middle of this rose the Prince Towers like a phoenix from the rubble of the Dasaprakash Hotel which was once part of the old Chennai cityscape. That was where my daughter got married in 1987 on a hot balmy Chennai summer day.

I was of course at the wedding, being the father of the bride, but actually missed most of it. This is the case with most Nair weddings which are blink-and-miss affairs of a few minutes. As for the people present in the front row, many of them complained to me later that all they could see were the posterior views of the videographers and still-photographers who were capturing the event for posterity. All I could do was sympathize with them and promise to show them the wedding video later.

A good 31 years after the event, my grandson Manu got the old fungus-ridden VHS tapes converted into digital format. He played it for me on his laptop, and on its screen unfolded so many wonderful sights and sounds that I had forgotten over the years. It was almost like I was watching the wedding for the first time. Seeing my old bungalow which has now been converted to an apartment building, seeing people who have passed on, people who are still there but have changed almost unrecognizably, a parade of my sisters and brothers-in-law, all of whom have departed for heavenly shores and a whole group of my friends who are either dead or have drifted away over the years, brought about a mixture of joy and sorrow. Watching my dear departed wife at her animated best, smilingly welcoming all the guests at her daughter's wedding, made me wish the videographer had spent more time focusing on her than anyone else.

Realization dawned then that, although videographers can seem like a nuisance to people attending a wedding, it is really worth the botheration since, decades later, one can choose to relive the past over and over again at the push of a button. What more can an old man like me ask for!

T. Nagar police get rid of unwanted documents

The 11 police stations in T. Nagar Police District, which include those in Mambalam, Pandy Bazaar, Teynampet, Kodambakkam, Valasaravakkam and Ashok Nagar, are in the process of getting rid of old documents no longer required.

These old papers and documents are being shredded and recycled. Following a GO passed several years ago, A. K. Viswanathan (City Police Commissioner) directed all police stations in Greater Chennai to identify such documents and destroy them through a safe recycling process.

T. Maheshwari (Inspector, All-Woman Police Station, T. Nagar) headed the team which undertook the exercise.

She said that the head-constable in each of the 11 police stations was given the task of identifying records over the last decade and earlier.

Documents like village roster with a retention period of two years, general police diaries, notebooks, general memos and written complaints were all segregated for recycling.

Around 16,890 kg. of old records were bartered with TNPL in exchange for A4 size papers which were distributed among the 11 police stations.

Chain snatchers rob women in K. K. Nagar and Vadapalani

By Our Staff Reporter

On May 19, two chain snatching incidents were reported in one hour in K. K. Nagar and Vadapalani.

Police suspect the same motorcycle-borne youths in both the incidents.

At around 6 p.m., an 8-sovereign chain was snatched from a 67-year-old woman walking with her husband in P. T. Rajan Salai, K. K. Nagar.

Within an hour, a 5-sovereign chain was snatched from a woman, again by two motorcycle-borne youths, in Arcot Road, Vadapalani.

According to the police, both the incidents happened in public glare and not on desolated streets.

Though both the women raised the alarm, the culprits managed to escape though they were chased by passersby.

Police obtained footage of the two youths along with the registration number of the bike from a nearby CCTV camera in the K. K. Nagar incident. The rider was seen masking his face with his helmet in the footage while the pillion rider was wearing a blue shirt. K. K. Nagar police have formed special teams to track the men with the help of the CCTV grabs.

The bike registration number led to a dead end as the bike had been stolen, said a police officer.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Help Corporation maintain cleanliness

Sir, Chennai Corporation has placed garbage bins in each street for the residents to dump waste. The waste from the bins is transferred through compactor lorries to a dumping yard for segregation and solid waste management.

As per the Chennai Corporation website, everyday 4500 tonnes of garbage is collected and removed from Chennai. Night conservancy is being carried out in all important roads and commercial areas of the city apart from the door to door collection of garbage.

It is every resident's responsibility to extend co-operation, help and support to Chennai Corporation by dumping the daily waste only in the garbage bins.

If the households and shop owners can segregate plastic waste, it will be of great help. Residents and store owners, in their own interest and in the interest of a pollution free environment, must ensure that their neighbourhood is kept clean and green. It is rightly said that 'Cleanliness is next to Godliness'.

The photo shows the unhygienic condition of Guild Street, T. Nagar with garbage dumped on the roadside, though the Corporation has kept two bins in the street.

I fervently appeal to Chennai Corporation to run awareness campaigns in residential areas, and also to introduce a system of fines like in Singapore for improper dumping of waste. V. S. Narayanaswamy. Motilal Street, T. Nagar.

Plea on 'Kids Section' timing in Circle Library

Sir, The 'Kids section' in Circle Library (11th Avenue, Ashok Nagar) is open from 10 a.m to 5 p.m which is not convenient for children.

On school days, the children return home from 2.30 to 3.30 p.m. The ideal time for them to visit the library will be after 5 p.m. Similarly, during the summer holidays, the preferred time is after 4 p.m due to the scorching heat in the afternoon.

In view of the above, I request the library authorities to keep the 'Kids Section' open at least till 7 p.m. K. Srinivasan, K 76, CBI Staff Quarters, Bharathidasan Colony, K. K. Nagar, Ph: 99620 80127

Open manhole in Madley Road poses danger

By Our Staff Reporter

The cover of the sewer manhole outside Madley Apartments, Madley Road, T. Nagar, near Madley subway has caved in.

An old telephone post and tree branches have been placed in the opening to caution motorists and pedestrians.

It poses a danger to road users due to poor visibility at night.

Residents protest demanding eviction of encroachments

To protest against the rampant encroachment of roads and footpaths, a section of T. Nagar residents led by members of the Pattali Makkal Katchi (PMK) staged a road blockade on Masilamani Street on May 21.

The protesters met Corporation officials in T. Nagar and submitted a petition demanding the removal of encroachments from government lands, roads and footpaths.

"We are unable to walk on the pavements due to the increasing encroachments. We had submitted a petition to the officials earlier but no action was taken. The delay in clearing the encroachments forced us to stage the road blockade," said V. Arumugam, a PMK functionary who took part in the agitation.

He said that roads and footpaths near Natesan Park are full of encroachments. Residents have complained about the encroachments on Kannadasan Street and Venkatanarayana Road as well, but there has been no response from officials, he added.

Vacant plot misused for dumping garbage

By Our Staff Reporter

A vacant plot near the bus stop on Burkit Road, T. Nagar is being misused as a dumping ground for garbage.

Some nearby residents complained that the plot has also been converted into an open toilet and its unhygienic condition poses a danger to them.

Busy junction in K. K. Nagar remains unpaved

The busy Alagirisamy Salai and Lakshmanasamy Salai junction in K. K. Nagar remains unpaved even after the Metrowater Dept. completed its work three months back.

It had dug the road to replace damaged underground pipes. After the work was completed, the trench was not closed properly.

The uneven surface, with loose gravel and potholes, is causing problems for motorists.

"I try and avoid the junction and take a detour," said Ramesh, a resident of 6th Avenue. The junction is not only dangerous to ride on, but has also become a dust bowl, he added.

Will the Corporation officials take immediate steps to relay the junction?

Vendors back outside Corporation Girls School

By Our Staff Reporter

Vendors have again started encroaching on the road margin next to the entrance to Corporation Girls School (Usman Road, T. Nagar).
