Arumbakkam police station is pet-friendly

Even as Arumbakkam K3 police station buzzes with activity, three to four cats can be seen lounging on the floor, on the shelves and under tables, oblivious to the actions around.
 Outside the station are more cats sleeping around the trees and on top of parked cars, while a number of dogs sleep without a care within the compound at the back.
 At around 9 p.m., all the strays gather for their daily feeding. They never go hungry as someone at the police station always feeds them, Sasikumar (Head Constable) said.
 All the strays are vaccinated and neutered, he said.
 None of the stray animals was brought in by the police personnel. They just happened to walk in at different periods in the past two years and, on finding it a safe place, soon became part of the K3 family.
 Sub-Inspector Sriram, now posted in Choolaimedu police station, visits almost daily to give his share of food to the animals. They are now part of our family, Inspector Rajaguru said.
