Appeal for responsible care of decades-old trees

By Jayakumar Daniel

I am a longtime resident of Anna Nagar, a regular morning walker, and a naturalist.

On my daily walks, I keep reflecting on the magnificent avenue trees planted in Anna Nagar during a major drive in the mid-1970s.

Though some have died or have been cut for construction and other works, many continue to thrive.

Due to irregular pruning and maintenance by Chennai Corporation, some of these ageing trees have outgrown their surroundings, leaning dangerously into roads and pathways, and their expanding roots damage pavements and compound walls.

In emergency situations like storms or heavy rains, some of these trees fall, or are cut for public safety, leading to loss of greenery.

Instead, a better solution will be to conduct an audit of the ageing avenue trees to identify those that require urgent attention, and undertake scientific pruning and trimming of large branches extending into roads and public spaces.

Only trees that are beyond safe restoration must be axed or replanted ensuring continuity of green cover.

I also appeal to the residents to report hazardous trees for timely administrative action as the common goal is safe, healthy, and sustainable urban greenery.

Road margin beautified with flowering plants

By Our Staff Reporter

Flowering plants grown in big plastic pots adorn the road margin adjoining the compound wall of a men's hostel in Spartan Nagar Main Road (near Spartan Nagar 2nd Street junction, Mogappair).

It gives a pleasant look and also deters parking on the stretch. The road is well maintained and is cleaned daily by conservancy workers.

A resident told this reporter that garbage is collected regularly from all households.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Problems of waste management in Nolambur

Sir, Due to shortage of conservancy workers and lack of transfer station, waste management continues to be a problem in Nolambur.

Opposite my apartment complex on Union Road (Nolambur), more than 10 garbage bins are kept on the road margin adjoining the Cooum river.

The bins are always overflowing as the entire garbage collected from households in Nolambur (wards 91, 92, and 93) is dumped into these bins and left to rot there for a few days before being transferred to Kodungaiyur dumpyard.

There are four gated communities in the vicinity with nearly 5000 families living in them, and thousands of residents from Mogappair, Nolambur, Golden George Nagar, and Padikuppam use this road daily to reach Poonamallee High Road.

It is a major health hazard to the residents and passers-by.

I appeal to Chennai Corporation to clear the bins twice daily. R. Kumaravel, Jains Nakshatra Apartments, Union Road, Nolambur.

Held for threatening wife with air gun

By Our Staff Reporter

Aminjikarai police arrested John Bosco (59), a retired army personnel, on charge of threatening his estranged wife Anuradha with an air gun outside her house in Aminjikarai on June 22.

The unlicensed air gun and more than hundred pellets were seized from him.

According to police, the couple have been living separately due to domestic disputes, and their children live with Anuradha.

On June 22, when John visited his wife's house to meet the children, an argument broke out between the two.

When she asked Bosco to leave, he got infuriated and brought the rifle from the car and fired a round in the air to threaten her.

Hearing the loud sound when neighbours intervened, John fled the spot.

Open ditch closed after report

By Our Staff Reporter

Following the report 'Open ditch inconveniences residents' published in Anna Nagar Times (June 14 - 20 issue), the ditch in front of the entrance to Pushkar Srinivasa Apartments (G Block, 15th Main Road, near 11th Main Road junction, Ranganathan Gardens, Anna Nagar) was closed by Chennai Corporation workers on June 23.

The ditch had been dug two months back to link the storm water drains on both roads.

As there was no progress in the work, the residents were put to hardship as they found it difficult to take their vehicles in and out of the building.

E.J. Sunder (resident of Pushkar Srinivasa Apartments) thanked Anna Nagar Times for publishing the civic lapse, and Chennai Corporation for its quick action.
